CHATHAM

C. A. Rickard and family have returned to their home in Chatham after making an extensive visit with friends in different parts of the county.

The heavy rains have caused some damage to the oat and wheat crop in our vicinity.

Prof. Jacobs of the Ashland college is spending a few days with his brother, Edward Jacobs, at River Cross.

A number of Chatham people attended the band concert at Lodi Wednesday evening and they give the new band a great deal of praise.

We are glad to learn that the Broad-sword family, who have been confined to their home so long on account of sickness, are now on the way to health.

The Chatham Keystone band and orchestra will give a concert in the hall at Litchfield next Saturday evening.

Miss Gladys Minds of Michigan will help to make the entertainment a success. Miss Minds is a cornetist, pianist and elocutionist.

LODI

Mr. S. R. Auble and son Hollis are visiting relatives and friends in San Diego and the Imperial Valley in California.

Mrs. Alma Chapman on her birthday last Tuesday received a silver shower from her friends, relatives and co-workers in the M. E. Sunday school, amounting to nearly forty-five dollars.

Some Austrians were discovered by Marshal Witherstone last Monday selling "booze" from a box car down in the B. & O. yards, near the electric station. They were taken before the Mayor and given a fine of $35 and costs. Prosecutor Underwood was present at the hearing.

Some storm broke out here last week when the council held an open air meeting on the corner near the Hower store and discussed and inadvertently cursed the sewer system and all connected with it to the amusement of the onlookers. The water board is also coming in for their share of little troubles caused by "kickers", etc.
When all these troubles are over and the roads get smooth again, Lodi will certainly be the long Promised Land.

SPENCER

Paul Woods and family of Shreve came to Spencer Sunday to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Clara Woods.

Mrs. Jessie Goodyear and daughter of Toledo are visiting with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Ream, this week.

Vina Bechtel and Irma Rugg spent a few days this week in Vermilion.

Mrs. Ira Bryant passed away Monday morning after a few weeks of severe illness of congestion of the lungs.

Mrs. R. S. Brown's mother and sister of Cleveland are here for a weeks visit.

Miss Ethel Rose is spending a few days this week at Clayton Bradley's.
Mr. McQuate's sister is here for a visit.

WHAT MILADY WEARS UPON HER HEAD AND AROUND HER NECK THESE DAYS

Transparent hats, furs and velvet headgear and low necks—these are some of the things in the summer fashions that men question, and even a few women come up to and shy at, as the thermometer soars skyward.
The little maiden with her "rikisha" hat goes serenely on; the girl with the white fox furs hugs them more closely and the wearer of the velvet hat sedately raises a parasol. Such matters are beyond comprehension of the more male or the woman who was brought up to view clothes for comfort.

© McCALL

A Sports Hat of Blue Taffeta, the Woven "Rikisha" and Silk Sailor; the "Chin Chin", the Jabot and the Puritan Collar.

Their very oddity is the lure that makes them popular. What matters a coat of tan if that hat is woven with holes the duplicate of the head-dress of the man that pulls the jirrikisha in Japan?

Even the woman who is conservative with her dress and suit, casts wisdom to the winds above the shoulder-line.
What lies above bespeaks the true woman who, in her heart of heart, loves the fantasies of fashion. The demure Quaker and saucy "Chin Chin" collars, the floppy hat and stiff-brimmed sailor, even the plug hat of silk beaver fringe that Mrs. Vernon Castle made famous at the races, appeal to those of us who like something "different."

The mode breathes romance, and romance is what fashion thrives on.
Every hat and every collar awakens a memory or tells a new tale. It is interesting to note that the Quaker collar has its origin in the collar of man's costume. How scandalized the shades of the old-time Quaker and the Puritan must be to see their collars made in frivolous gaudy, Swiss and cretonne! Jabots and frills come from another period, when French courtiers were furbelows. In modern times, Sara Bernhardt gives her famous youth-giving frill to the high collar; while the flaring half collars that are still shown on dresses and waists look back to a portrait of Shelley. Nor is the mode without humor; "Chin Chin" collars, aimed at a giddy masquerade costume have gone far of the mark and appear on coats.

Past modes are drawn on for hats, too. In an exclusive shop, just off the Avenue, one of the girls of the younger set ordered a garden hat the other day of white chip, with a pyramid of pink roses—the exact duplicate of the hat her great-great-grandmother wore when she tripped across the lawns at the Capitol. All these garden hats of leghorn and Milan recall the Colonial days. Even the "rikisha", imported in spirit from Japan, smacks of this style when trimmed with roses, the black varnished cord of which it is made contrasting with the light frocks.

Broadly speaking the hats of the season are divided into four classes; those portrait-fashion garden hats, stiff-brimmed sailors that bespeak the past or the present, according to the materials and trimmings; the sport hats, borrowed from the four corners of the globe, and last, but not least, the coky-turbans, which chow the martial note in millinery.

The stiff-brimmed sailors are a chapter in themselves. Already, the straws are on the wane. Chiffon brims we have tired of, and so the attention naturally turns to sailors of blue taffeta, black velvet and cretonne. "America", the white, leather-faced, blue taffeta, is a worthy emblem to the country from which it takes its name. White beaded wings for trimming brings to mind the speed of Mercury; and the glory of ancient Rome lies in other trimming for other taffeta hats.

Black velvets, shiny and plushy as cat's fur, are embroidered with fleecy white wool, as wintry as possible to shock the sun of summer. Birds and animals in the wool crawl over the crowns, and the brims are invariably finished in old-fashioned quilt-stitch, varied in length to make a design.

With white linen and cretonne costumes, "Mistress Mary" cretonne hats make a smart finish. These need no trimming, the bright colors being gay enough for any summer landscape, whether mountain, country or shore.

Sport hats come from odd nooks and corners. The latest, a dark blue taffeta, is decidedly Chinese in aspect.
It has a sloping brim, with a soft edge an inch wide that flaps down and shades the face, dented on one side with heavy balls suspended from the ends of a cord tied around the crown.
Scotland contributed the tam, and there is a soft hat made completely of narrow bias strips of silk that is finding favor under a "Made-in-America" label.

© McCALL

A Garden Hat of White Chip, the Military Turban and Sports Hat of Bias Silk Strips, with the Flaring, the Standing and the Quaker Collar.

Those of the turbans that are smart are military; tipped fearlessly to one side, with sides of velvet and crowns of silk. Indeed, so simple and so smart are these hats, they baffle description.

At the present time, hats come under these four classes, black and white prevailing, dark blue being the exception that proves the rule. Later, when suits grow darker, no doubt, hats of the new blue de l'etoile being worn with the tailored suits of beige, plumes at the s reticent, flit white, dark navy blue or brown"; that "The Italian military 'Larsigliere' is worn with its flowing cocks' plumes at the side"; and again, "The suits of tan are usually trimmed with wide shawl collars of white wool or faille silk, and are topped by tiny white hats or by broad-brimmed sailors made of soft white crepe de Chine.

DISCOVERING CORN MEAL

The war in Europe is likely to teach the Europeans the value of corn meal as human food. The demand for it has largely boosted the price of corn in the American markets, and it is likely to boost it still higher. This is fortunate for the domestic consumers of corn bread and boiled mush, but there will be compensations. After the war is over the Europeans who have eaten corn will continue to eat it, and the fields of waving corn on the American farms will be transformed into gold mines. The yellow kernels will glint with the real luster of health. But even though corn meal is dearer than it was a few weeks ago, it is still cheaper than wheat flour.
Necessity may teach some Americans that they can reduce the cost of living, even now, by using more corn meal. And that will be another form in which the compensation will manifest itself.

ERHART

Tom Smith and wife spent Sunday at Joe Haumesser's.

Mr. Burbank returned from his fishing trip Sunday night. Plenty of fish stories but no fish.

Mrs. Simon and daughter visited friends in Medina several days last week.

Messrs. Jesse James, Tony Weber and Hugh Dowell are busy these days setting up machinery.

Papa Degman attended a funeral at C.H. Otterbacher caught a turtle on the square Monday, that weighed 63 pounds.

POE

Rev. F. W. Hass will preach at 3 o'clock eastern time at the Poe M. E. church. The text will be "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Last week we went ahead of last year's attendance record. We will try and do the same next Sunday.
